

Lincoln's Love Affairs

By Ward Hill Lamon, Lincoln's Friend and Bodyguard

And His Early Experiences as a Lawmaker

CHAPTER III.
Abe Always True to the Memory of Ann.

It was only a year or two after the death of Ann Rutledge that Mr. Lincoln told Robert L. Wilson, a distinguished colleague in the legislature, parts of whose letter will be printed in another place, that although "he appeared to enjoy life rapturously" it was a mistake; that when alone he was so overcome by mental depression that he never dared to carry a pocket knife. And during all Mr. Wilson's extended acquaintance with him he never did own a knife, notwithstanding he was inordinately fond of whittling.

Mr. Herndon says: "He never addressed another woman, in my opinion, 'Yours affectionately,' and generally and characteristically abstained from the use of the word 'love.' That word cannot be found more than a half dozen times, if that often, in all his letters and speeches since that time. I have seen some of his letters to other ladies, but he never says 'love.' He never ended his letters with 'Yours affectionately,' but signed his name, 'Your friend, A. Lincoln.'"

After Mr. Lincoln's election to the presidency he one day met an old friend, Isaac Cogdale, who had known him intimately in the better days of the Rutledges at New Salem. "Ike," said he, "call at my office at the state house about an hour by sundown. The company will then all be gone."

Cogdale went according to request, "and sure enough," as he expressed it, "the company dropped off one by one, including Lincoln's clerk."

"I want to inquire about old times and old acquaintances," began Mr. Lincoln. "When we lived in Salem there were the Greenses, Potters, Armstrongs and Rutledges. These folks have got scattered all over the world. Some are dead. Where are the Rutledges, Greenses, etc.?"

"After we had spoken over old times," continues Cogdale—"persons, circumstances—in which he showed a wonderful memory, I then dared to ask him this question:

"May I now, in turn, ask you one question, Lincoln?"

"Assuredly, I will answer your question, if a fair one, with all my heart."

"Well, Abe, is it true that you fell in love and courted Ann Rutledge?"

"It is true—true! Indeed I did. I have loved the name of Rutledge to this day. I have kept my mind on their movements ever since and love them dearly."

"Abe, is it true," still urged Cogdale, "that you ran a little wild about the matter?"

"I did really. I ran off the track. It was my first. I loved the woman dearly. She was a handsome girl; would have made a good, loving wife; was natural and quite intellectual, though not highly educated. I did honestly and truly love the girl and think often—often—of her now."

A few weeks after the burial of Ann Rutledge returned to New Salem. He saw Lincoln at the postoffice and was struck with the deplorable change in his appearance. A short time afterward Lincoln wrote him a deed, in memory of his great friend and rival. His father was at last dead, but he brought back with him his mother and her family. In December of the same year his mother died and was buried in the same graveyard with Ann. During his absence Colonel Rutledge had occupied his farm and there Ann died, but "the Rutledge farm" proper adjoined this one to the south. "Some of Mr. Lincoln's corners as a surveyor are still visible on lines traced by him on both farms."

On Sunday, the 14th day of October, 1896, William H. Herndon knocked at the door of John McNamara at his residence, but a few feet distant from the spot where Ann Rutledge breathed her last. After some preliminaries not necessary to be related Mr. Herndon says: "I asked him the question: 'Did you know Miss Rutledge? If so, where did she die?'"

"He sat by his open window, looking westerly, and, pulling me closer to himself, looked through the window and said: 'There, by that—choking up with emotion, pointing his long forefinger, nervous and trembling, to the spot—there, by that current bush, she died. The old house in which she and her father died is gone.'"

Grave of Ann Rutledge.

"After further conversation, leaving the sadness to momentarily pass away, I asked this additional question: 'Where was she buried?'"

"In Concord burying ground, one mile southeast of this place."

Mr. Herndon sought the grave. "S. C. Berry," says he, "James Short (the gentleman who purchased in Mr. Lincoln's compass and chain in 1834 under an execution against Lincoln or Lincoln & Berry and gratuitously gave them back to Mr. Lincoln), James Miles and myself were together."

"I asked Mr. Berry if he knew where Miss Rutledge was buried—the place and exact surroundings. He replied: 'I do. The grave of Miss Rutledge lies just north of her brother's, David Rutledge, a young lawyer of great promise, who died in 1842.'"

"The cemetery contains but an acre of ground in a beautiful and secluded situation. A thin skirt of timber lies on the east, commencing at the fence of the cemetery. The ribbon of timber, some fifty yards wide, hides the sun's early rise. At 9 o'clock the sun pours all his rays into the cemetery. An extensive prairie lies west, the forest north, a field on the east and timber and prairie on the south. In this lonely ground lie the Berry's, the Rutledges, the Clays, the Armstrongs and the Joneses, old and respected citizens, pioneers of an early day. I write, or, rather, did write, the original draft of this description in the immediate presence of the ashes of Miss Ann Rutledge, the beautiful and tender dead. The village of the dead is a sad, solemn place. Its very presence imposes truth on the mind of the living writer. Ann Rutledge lies buried north of her brother and rests sweetly on his left arm, angels to guard her. The cemetery is fast filling with the hazel and the dead." [In 1830 the remains of Miss Rutledge were removed to Oakwood cemetery, Petersburg, Ill., and the new grave was marked by a plain granite boulder.—Editor.]

A lecture delivered by William H. Herndon at Springfield in 1893 contained the main outline, without the minutest details, of the story here related. It was spoken, printed and circulated without contradiction from any quarter. It was sent to the Rutledges, McNeelys, Greenses, Shorts and many other of the old residents of New Salem and Petersburg, with particular requests that they should correct any error they might find in it. It was pronounced by them all truthful and accurate, but their replies, together with a mass of additional evidence, have been carefully collated with the lecture, and the result is the present narrative. The story of Ann Rutledge, Lincoln and McNamara as told here is as well proved as the fact of Mr. Lincoln's election to the presidency.

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines by publishing a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Remedies of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the closest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, his famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their women. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

GIVEN A SETBACK

Anti-Saloon League Forces Meet With Defeat In the Senate.

AMENDMENT VOTED DOWN

Effort to Place the Burden of Proof on Applicants in Remonstrance Cases Defeated 25 to 20.

Senate Republicans in Caucus Agree to Present a Compromise Anti-Trust Measure.

Indianapolis, Feb. 6.—The senate and house are now turning out work at a very rapid pace. The two branches seem to be vying with each other as to the amount of work they can do. It looks as if more bills than usual are being killed. By next week, however, many will be ready for Governor Hanly's consideration.

The Anti-Saloon League forces received a temporary setback at the hands of a majority of the senate, which killed Senator T. T. Moore's amendment to his famous remonstrance law. He sought to place the burden of proof on the applicant in remonstrance cases, and it looked as if he would succeed. His amendment provided that the signatures on the remonstrance should be regarded as prima facie evidence that they were genuine until they were proven otherwise by the applicant. Under the present system, the applicant may compel all persons whose names are attached to the remonstrance to come into court and swear that their signatures are genuine. Senator Slack offered an amendment providing that the applicant might file a sworn affidavit against any or all signatures, in which case it would devolve on the remonstrators who were challenged to prove that their signatures were genuine. Senator Moore and other advocates of the bill refused to accept this compromise, and they voted it down. The bill was then defeated by a vote of 25 to 20. Senators Hugg, Stotsenberg, William and Carl Wood made vigorous attacks on the bill, which was one of the most important temperance measures of the session. On this bill the vote was as follows: Ayes—Beardsley, Bowser, Crumpacker, Farmer, Goodwine, Hanna, Hawkins, Kirkman, Kistler, Kittinger, Lane, McCain, McDowell, Orndorf, F. Parks, Patterson, Pearson, Pelzer, Ranke, Roemer, Stotsenberg, Tyndall, Carl Wood and Will Wood.

The Republicans in the senate agreed in caucus to present a compromise anti-trust bill. With all the trimmings on it will show relationship to the four anti-trust bills already introduced in the senate by Senators Hugg, Kirkman, Hawkins and Cavins. The substitute will be presented within a few days.

The house passed the following bills: By Representative McDonald, to appropriate $2,500 to build a monument at Twin Lakes, Ind., in honor of Chief Menominee and the Pottawatome Indians; Brown, restricting the change or revision of schoolbooks oftener than once in every fifteen years; Slomp, relieving the governor of duty on the state tax board and permitting him to appoint a third member in his place; the bill also fixes the salary of the appointed members at $2,500 a year; Watson, limiting the amount of road tax anyone may work to $50; Baker, requiring corporations to make annual reports to the secretary of state; Jackson, preventing manufacturers and shippers from giving presents to station agents and trainmen in return for favors and classing the offense as bribery; Weaver, prohibiting anyone from trading or selling a diseased horse. Five insurance bills were introduced in the senate yesterday afternoon—two by Senator Mattingly and three by Senator T. T. Moore. One of the latter's provides that no insurance company shall do business in Indiana whose president is paid a salary of over $50,000 annually. He limits the salary of presidents of Indiana companies to $10,000. A bill permitting sheriffs to destroy gambling paraphernalia without waiting for conviction of anyone caught using it, was passed by a vote of 64 to 18 in the house. The metropolitan police bill, taking the power of appointing police boards from the governor, was passed with votes to spare.

The railroad lobby received a body blow from the senate when that body passed the Honan full-train-crew bill, which went through the house successfully last week. There was only one vote against it. The measure was prepared by the State Federation of Labor. It provides that where a freight train is made up of fifty cars exclusive of the engine and caboose, that the crew must consist of an engineer, fireman, conductor, two brakemen and a flagman. Lighter trains shall have a crew of five men, including a flagman. This applies also to passenger and express trains of over five cars. The penalty for violation of the act is a fine of from $100 to $500 for each offense. The Babcock insurance bill was reported favorably.

GRAVE DEFECT

It Is Said Fan in Ill-Fated Mine Had Not Been Working.

Elkins, W. Va., Feb. 6.—It is now known that the total number of men in the Thomas mine at the time of the explosion Monday was thirty-seven, all of whom were foreigners. One of the sad features of the catastrophe is the death by suffocation of Mine Boss Daniel Jones, an experienced miner, sixty years of age. Jones was one of the first rescuers to enter the mine and was brought out nearly dead by his comrades. After recovering he went in a second time, and was brought out dead from suffocation, making the total death list thirty-eight.

So far sixteen bodies have been taken from drift No. 25 of the Davis Coal and Coke company's mine at Thomas, and it is said that fully that many more yet remain in the mine. It is extremely dangerous to enter the drift for any considerable distance because of foul gases, and compressed air is being used to ventilate the shaft. The drift is a mile in extent, and it may take a day or two before the drift is clear enough of gas to allow the rescuers to recover the rest of the bodies.

Not until then can the real cause of the explosion be known. Those who are familiar with the drift say that the ventilating fan has not been in operation since Friday. It is believed that when the men had gone into the drift some distance with their open lamps the accumulated gas exploded, burning many of them to death, and the after-damp suffocated the others. No inquest has yet been held, but an investigation is being made by the mine inspector.

Upon adjournment Mr. McDonald announced the formation of the company, and added: "Everything is now ready for the actual work of digging."

William J. Oliver of Knoxville, Tenn., and his associate, Anson M. Bangs, were the lowest bidders for the construction of the Panama canal, but after the government rejected Mr. Oliver's partnership, Mr. Oliver was given ten days to associate himself with at least two reliable contractors to take up the work under the terms of his contract price. The time given him to make these arrangements and to supply evidence of his ability to furnish $5,000,000 capital and a bond of $2,000,000 would expire today.

Mr. Oliver has associated himself with nine well-known contractors, and according to Mr. McDonald, all the financial requirements of the government have been met.

Doings in Congress.

Washington, Feb. 6.—The senate spent the entire day yesterday in considering the Indian appropriation bill, but without concluding the discussion of senate amendments. The measure is again before the senate today. The army appropriation bill was reported to the senate and will be taken up as soon as the Indian bill has been disposed of. The bill carries $81,500,000. General debate on the rivers and harbors appropriation bill, which has been before the house since last Wednesday, was terminated.

TUMORS CONQUERED

Overwhelming Proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy Tumor.

The growth of a tumor is so insidious that frequently its presence is wholly unsuspected until it is well advanced.

So called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages or the presence of danger may be made manifest by excessive monthly periods accompanied by unusual pain, from the abdomen through the groin and thigh.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation or displacements, secure a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, right away and begin its use. The following letters should convince every suffering woman of its virtue, and that it actually does conquer tumors.

Mrs. May Fry, of 836 W. Colfax Ave., South Bend, Ind., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "I take great pleasure in writing to thank you for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I also took the Blood Purifier in alternate doses with the Compound. Your medicine removed a cyst tumor of four years' growth, which three of the best physicians declared I had. They had said that only an operation could help me. I am very thankful that I followed a friend's advice and took your medicine. It has made me a strong and well woman and I shall recommend it as long as I live."

Mrs. E. F. Hayes, of 26 Ruggles St., Boston, Mass., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "I have been under different doctors' treatment for a long time without relief. They told me I had a fibroid tumor, my abdomen was swollen and I suffered with great pain. I wrote to you for advice, you replied and I followed your directions carefully and today I am a well woman. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound expelled the tumor and strengthened my whole system."

Mrs. Perry Byers, of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, writes:

Such testimony as above is convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for Tumor (growths as well as other distressing ills of women, and such symptoms as Bearing down Sensations, Displacements, Irregularities and Backache, etc. Women should remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing so many women. Don't forget to insist upon it when some druggist asks you to accept something else which he calls "just as good."

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. She is the Mrs. Pinkham who has been advising sick women free of charge for more than twenty years, and before that she assisted her mother-in-law, Lydia E. Pinkham in advising. Thus she is especially well qualified to guide sick women back to health.

altogether suppress the suggestion of a grin at the keenness of some of Mr. Jerome's questions and the subtle humor they so thinly veiled. But before the close of the day Thaw seemed to worry. He bit his finger nails and seemed anxious for the doctor's ordeal to end. His attorneys appeared a bit puzzled at first, but evidently determined to give the district attorney the widest liberty.

It was at the close of Mr. Jerome's cross-examination of Dr. Wiley that the attempt was made to introduce testimony tending to show the strain of insanity said to have existed in certain branches of the Thaw family. Among the witnesses called was Albert Lee Thaw of Richmond, Va., who said that his father and Harry Thaw's father were first cousins. The defense stated its purpose to draw from the witness the fact that his father died in an asylum for the insane, when Mr. Jerome objected. He declared that the relationship of both the witnesses and his father was too far removed from the defendant to be competent. Justice Fitzgerald upheld this view of the matter, saying however, that his ruling was subject to revision if the attorneys for the defense could cite authorities on the subject. Mr. Gleason, who alone conducted the case for Thaw yesterday, did cite some cases, but promised to have more authorities in court later.

"I'm stuck," said the manager of the label department of the wholesale grocery.

"What's the trouble?" asked the superintendent.

"Whether to mark these cans 'Maple sirup, Vermont style,' or 'Vermont sirup, maple style.'"

The defense did, however, get before the twelve men in the box the testimony of an expert, that in his opinion Harry Thaw was "suffering from insanity" the night of the tragedy. Mr. Jerome undertook to break down the evidence of the alienist, Dr. C. C. Wiley of Pittsburgh, and for three hours put him through a cross-examination as severe as ever heard in a New York court. The prosecutor was relentless in his attack, and before he had finished Dr. Wiley protested indignantly: "I did not come here as an expert, I came as a witness to a fact, and I have been converted into an expert without being prepared for it."

The district attorney astonished everyone by his intimate knowledge of medicine and its technical phraseology, demonstrating the care with which he had prepared himself to meet the very defense which Thaw's counsel have entered on his behalf. Mr. Jerome searchingly inquired into Dr. Wiley's record as a physician and as an expert on insanity. He hurled volleys of technical questions at the witness, who at times sat mute, and at other times declared he could not answer, or gave evasive replies. Often he brought upon himself sharp warning from the district attorney to make a reply and not an argument.

Thaw's counsel sat silent and without protest as Mr. Jerome grilled the first witness for the defense. Thaw himself seemed to take but little interest in the cross-examination at the outset, but later began to take notes and was often in earnest conversation with those of his counsel who sat next to him. At times Thaw could not Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1907.

The senate has passed a bill for the relief of those townships where a local school levy will not bring sufficient returns for a six months term of school.

The State senate has passed the $1,000 saloon license bill. The vote was 29 to 18. Senator Carl E. Wood voted against the bill. The bill now goes to the House where its fate is in doubt.

If the glass industry can not prosper without the employment of child labor, long hours and even at night there is something radically wrong with the business. It should be reformed.

The State Fair management has tried all sorts of advertising for the state fair and makes the announcement that the newspapers over the state bring best returns. They will not waste so much money on other kinds of advertising this year.

The bill that is designed to deprive the governor of the state of the right to appoint the metropolitan police boards in a dozen or more cities in the state passed the house by a vote of 73 to 19. The argument of home rule won votes for the bill.

The House has passed a bill taking the Governor off the State Tax Board which meets his approval. But the effort to raise the salaries of the commissioners to $4,000 was not agreed to. The salary will be $2,500 which is sufficient to command good men.

The House has passed a measure which, if it becomes a law will prescribe some different regulations in the matter of a change or revision of school books. It provides that geographies and histories may be revised or changed every ten years and other text books every fifteen years.

A BILL has passed the house giving a county sheriff the right to destroy slot machines, dice boxes and all kinds of gambling paraphernalia as soon as he takes an inventory of such unlawful property. If that bill passes the senate and the sheriffs act accordingly they will have plenty of business for awhile. Wonder if the Jackson county sheriff would find any thing to confiscate.

Old Story.

Uncle Tom's Cabin's the old story of slavery days, continues to hold the attention of the people. Few books have been read so much and the presentation of this story on the stage continues to draw people. There will be a big crowd out here Thursday evening when it will be seen again at the opera house.

$13.50 ladies light coats now $5.00 at C. R. Hoffmann's.

M. E. Church.

There will be the usual prayer meeting at the Methodist church this evening. In the absence of the pastor, who was called to the bedside of his father, some one else will lead.

FULL TRAIN CREWS.

Provisions of the Honan Law Which Has Passed Both Houses.

The Honan full train crew bill, a measure backed by the organized forces of railroad employees, passed the Senate Tuesday by a vote of 41 to 1. The bill originated in the House and passed that body last week. The railroad men believe that Governor Hanly will not hesitate to sign it and it will become operative when the laws enacted by this General Assembly are promulgated.

The full train crew bill provides that freight trains consisting of more than fifty cars, shall be manned by a crew of six persons, conductor, engineer, fireman, two brakemen and a flagman. Freight trains of less than fifty cars must be manned with crews of five men. The provision in the section relative to freight trains that a light engine without cars shall have a crew of "one conductor, one flagman, one engineer and one fireman," aroused some discussion, but it was contained by the supporters of the measure that this was necessary in order to provide every safeguard possible.

The second section of the bill provides that passenger, mail or express trains, consisting of five or more cars, shall be manned by a crew consisting of engineer, fireman, conductor, brakeman and flagman, five persons. The penalty clause provides that any railroad company sending out trains not manned in accordance with the bill's provisions, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction shall be fined in any sum between $100 and $500. The additional provision is made that the railroad company shall be liable for any damages caused by a violation of the provisions specified. The State Railroad Commission is to enforce the law.

Bank Brings Suit

The Seymour National Bank has brought an action in circuit court here against Mrs. Lennie Hyatt and Preston Rider of this city. The complaint asks $12,000 which is alleged to be due on a note. A copy of the note, calling for $10,000 is made an exhibit in the complaint and it is alleged that such money was borrowed of the Seymour bank in 1905, to be repaid in six months. The complaint states that the money was never paid back and with interest and attorney fees the amount now asked is $12,000. Hord & Cox are attorneys for the Seymour bank.—Col. Rep.

Business Building Sold.

George Binder has sold his two story brick business building on S. Chestnut street, formerly occupied by the Binder Hardware Store, to John Loertz, the baker. Robert Binder has been here since Sunday straightening up some business matters here and disposing of some of the fixtures in the storehouse. About everything has been disposed of now except some show cases. Mr. Loertz will make some changes and improvements in the building and will occupy the lower floor with his bakery.

Justice Court.

George Judd plead guilty in Justice Congdon's court yesterday to a charge of public intoxication and was fined $1 and costs. This is said to be another case growing out of the Judd-Emily feud. There is no case pending against either of the parties at the present time, so far as we know, and probably will not be till the weather gets so they can get out again.

License Revoked.

The State Medical Board has revoked the license of Dr. J. W. Arnold, a Columbus physician, for alleged unlawful and criminal practice. He is under indictment and his trial is set for this week.

Frank W. Teck, of Bedford, was here last evening.

W. K. Penrod, publisher of the Loogootee Tribune, was here this morning.

Mrs. Sophia Schneck, Mrs. Weithoff and Mrs. John Pfaffenberger went to Columbus this morning to witness the exhibit of fine poultry.

Ed Von Fange, Louis Noelker and Henry P. Miller were among those who went to Columbus this morning to attend the poultry exhibit. George Clark will probably go up again this afternoon.

The case of Caleb Powers, charged with complicity in the murder of William Garbel at Frankfort, Ky., seven years ago, was called at Georgetown Tuesday and continued. Hewitt probably be tried at a special term early in the summer. This will be his fourth trial.

Extended a Call.

The members of the Baptist church at Ebenezer have extended a call to the Rev. J. M. Swarthout, of Milan. We have not yet learned whether or not it is Rev. Swarthout's intention to accept the call. There was a large crowd present at the service there Sunday evening to hear the farewell sermon of Rev. Wiley Weart and during the evening he was presented with a nice book by members of the congregation as a token of their esteem and well wishes and their appreciation of his earnest work at that place during the year and two weeks just past.

Surveyors Here Today.

Some of the surveyors for the Indianapolis, Columbus and Southern traction line were in the city this morning taking levels from the intersection of Second and Chestnut streets east on Second. As the merchants and other business men on that street looked out and saw them at work they could almost hear the clang of the bells. It will only be a few short months now till the street cars will be rushing by.

Motion For New Trial.

The defendant in the case of the First National Bank of Seymour against Cyrus E. McCrady and the Federal Union Surety Company, has filed a motion for a new trial. The case was tried here on a change of venue from Jackson county during the last term of court, Judge John W. Macy, of Winchester, acting as special judge. The motion for a new trial has not been argued as Judge Macy has not been here during the present term of court and will not be here until some later date.—Columbus Republican.

Leaving Muddy Water Town

The American Harness and Leather Company has decided to quit Columbus, the muddy water station on the Louisville division of the Pennsylvania, and move their plant and men to Franklin. But Columbus might raise another $100,000 for Janney and maybe he could make good next time.

Mrs. John Newcomb, of Columbus, is visiting at Brownstown.

Bert Sandau is sick and unable to be on duty at the Blith Mill.

Rev. H. H. Allen was called to Sullivan this morning on account of the serious illness of his father.

Mrs. John T. Himler, who has been suffering with an attack of the grip for the past few days at her home on South Carter street, is now able to be up. Her daughter, Miss Ida Himler, is also improving.

Robt. O. Balsley, of Indianapolis, a former Seymour man, renews his subscription to the Weekly REPUBLICAN and writes a cheerful letter. He is prospering in the capital city for he is a hustler.

Dr. Charles Patrick, of Indianapolis, who has been seriously ill for some time, continues to improve and is now able to be about the house. His daughter, Miss Nina, who had been suffering from an attack of rheumatism, has taken up her work again as a teacher in the Indianapolis schools.

Mrs. J. H. Anderson and daughter, Miss Hazel, returned from Nashville, Tenn. last evening. Miss Hazel stood the trip all right and is some better today. She is suffering from a broken down nervous system and will probably be under the care of a physician for two or three months.

RELIEF FOR SHIPPERS

Prospects Are That Railway Commission Will Be Given More Power.

Indianapolis, Ind., February 6.—The railroad committees of the senate and house held another joint meeting last night, to listen to the arguments pro and con regarding the two bills introduced to strengthen the powers of the state railroad commission. The latter has a measure containing about twenty amendments to its law, the real purport of which is to give the commission authority to enforce its rulings. The other bill was prepared by the shippers' association, and it is very drastic in many particulars. The railroad men are strenuously opposed to it, as it provides for reciprocal demurrage and would compel the railroad companies to move freight fifty miles a day. It would also empower the commission to have a receiver appointed and to issue receivers' certificates to obtain funds to buy rolling stock and other equipment whenever the company failed to furnish adequate transportation facilities. It is very likely that this bill will be reported for indefinite postponement, as the members of the commission are not in favor of it. Their own bill gives them all the authority they require. They were in consultation with several prominent railroad attorneys who were invited to express their opinion on different phases of the proposed legislation. Inasmuch as the bill will give the commission jurisdiction over the interurban roads, the traction men were represented during the conference. The commission has shown a disposition to be fair with the railroad and traction interests, and it is very likely that the bill will go through without much trouble.

Unless the senate comes to its rescue the metropolitan police law will be repealed, as the house has passed the McCullough bill taking from the governor the authority to appoint police boards and placing it in the hands of the mayors. The vote in favor of the measure was 73 to 19. The Democrats voted solidly for it and twenty-eight Republicans lined up with them, although it was generally known that Governor Hanly was opposed to it. There is a report today that the governor has told several members that he will veto the bill if it comes to him. Those who are pushing it are not alarmed on that score, as they are confident they could pass it over his veto if they get it through the senate. It is believed that more Republicans would have voted for it but for the fact that the Democrats were pledged in their state platform last year to repeal the law. The latter has been objectionable to thousands of people, and, contrary to statement, made by opponents of the McCullough bill, the opposition does not come from the "liberal" element entirely. For instance Representative Condo of Marion presented a petition in favor of the repeal of the law, which is said to have been signed by hundreds of the best people of Marion. Practically every city affected by the law has petitioned for its repeal. The size of the vote for the McCullough bill, however, was surprising, especially as it was a party matter with the Democrats. The advocates of the bill are now at work among the members of the senate.

It was reported today that the house committee on ways and means will present a divided opinion on the Nancy Fauntleroy Memorial association bill, a measure which has been indefinitely postponed. It was thought that it would not meet with any opposition as the purpose of it is to authorize the state to assume control of the burial ground of the mother of President Lincoln. Representative Gelas of Evansville, whose constituents are interested in the bill, said today that the opposition to it was due to the fact that it carried a demand for an appropriation of $5,000, and that it is contrary to the policy of the Republicans this time to favor special appropriation measures. The members of the legislature from the First district are expected to make a hard fight for the bill when it reaches the floor of the house.

A "doubtful" advertising medium, like other doubtful things—such as eggs—is apt to be "dear at any price."

See what a few lines of type will do toward straightening out the matter!
When you have a business to sell, invest a few dollars in advertising in order to find the right buyer. He will pay your advertising bill. Cheerfully!

MITCHELL TOUGH

Slashes Charles Ball With a Big Knife.

Charles Ball, a night policeman at Mitchell, and a brother of John Ball and Mrs. Perkhiser of this city, was quite severely cut with a knife last Saturday evening in the hands of Herbert C. Edwards, of Bryantsville.

Mr. Ball went into a restaurant and the waiter handed him a little looking glass that he was looking at when a strange man asked him for the glass.
Ball told the stranger that he did not get the glass from him when a second demand was made for it and Ball handed it back to the lady waiter.

The stranger walked out shortly afterward and when Ball came out of the restaurant they had some words on the outside. Ball did not suspect that the man could be so mad over such a little thing and so was not thinking seriously about the matter till when he walked near Edwards the latter drew a spring back knife from his overcoat pocket and began to slash at Ball with all the force that he could command. Ball received two gashes in the back of the head. A piece about the size of a dollar was cut from his forehead and one stroke cut through the clothing and marked the skin just over the heart. Ball drew his revolver and fired four times, neither ball taking effect, as his face and eyes were so full of blood that he could not see what he was doing. The man ran into the saloon and Ball followed him in and succeeded in placing him under arrest. Ball lost considerable blood but was soon back on duty and his wounds are not dangerous.

The reports say that the Mitchell police did a land office business last week. In one engagement Marshal Cheek's clothing was cut into shreds, but he was not seriously hurt. There were four street fights there Saturday and one each day from Tuesday up till Saturday, one fellow cleaning out the American restaurant by shooting at rats which he imagined that he saw running along the ceiling, the result of Mitchell whiskey.

Seventieth Birthday.

John Eastwood, who resides in the brick residence near hangman's crossing, celebrated his seventieth birthday last Sunday. Mrs. Eastwood's sister, Mrs. Archibald O. Moulder, and family and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Carter and family, of this city, went out to Mr. Eastwood's to spend the day in honor of the occasion. Mr. Eastwood was born in England and came to America when he was twenty-six years of age. He lived in Connecticut and Rhode Island for a while and came to Seymour about 1870 and worked in the Woolen Mills where he was foreman for some time before Louis Schneek took charge of the mill.
He has been around Seymour for almost forty years and moved out to where he now resides about thirty years ago. After he quit work at the Woolen Mill he and Peter Byrne were engaged in the tomb-stone business on S. Chestnut street. Their two children, Mrs. Arthur P. Carter, of this city, and Fred Eastwood, of Washington, Ind., and Mrs. Eastwood's sister, Mrs. Martha Moulder, and their families are about their only relatives living in this part of the country.

The Poet-Scout.

Captain Jack Crawford, the noted Poet-Scout, who appears next on the lecture course, stands alone in his peculiar field of usefulness. He stands for all that is best in humanity and has the power of his convictions. His personality is attractive, his conversation is instructive and the entire atmosphere of the man is inspiring and ennobling. His entertainment is as unique as the man, himself. Poetry or story, history, patriotism, wit and humor beautifully blend in his work on the platform. He has a message of helpfulness for the American youth.
His thrilling words are remembered long after he has gone. All in all, he is the most unique personality on the American platform, and no one should miss this opportunity of hearing him, Wednesday, Feb. 13, 1907, at Society Hall.

Running 16 Hours Per Day.

The Blish Mills have been running sixteen hours per day now since Monday. The men are worked in two eight hour shifts. It was necessary several days ago to shut down to twelve hours per day instead of twenty-four because the high waters throughout the country prevented the wheat from coming in. The wheat is now coming in faster than it is being ground and the mills will probably start to running twenty to twenty-four hours per day again in the near future.

On The Ice

Scores of young people have been finding time now and then to go to Rockford to skate on the ice. The skating has been pretty fair but the unusual number of attractions in the city this winter have prevented the crowds on the ice from being as large as they were last year. There is something going on in town every night and it is hardly worth while to walk a mile or two and be exposed to the rough weather in order to find a little amusement.

MOTHERS OF SEYMOUR

Vinol Will Make Your Thin, Ailing
Children Strong, Rosy and Robust
Just as it Did This Little Boy.

Mrs. L. P. Skonnard, of Minneapolis, writes: "I feel it my duty to tell others what your cod liver preparation, Vinol, has done for my little boy. He was sick for two years, pale, and had no appetite. We tried different doctors and medicines and had given up all hopes that he would recover, but thanks to Vinol he is a well and healthy boy, and I want to recommend Vinol to every mother who has a weak or sickly child."

Mr. Peter, of the W. F. Peter Drug Co., says: "We want to say to every mother in Seymour that our cod liver preparation, Vinol, will build your children up into strong, robust, healthy children. We have never sold anything equal to it in our store for this purpose, and we will return your money if it fails."

Is there a mother in Seymour who will ignore such a generous offer as this? W. F. Peter Drug Co.

NOTE.—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Seymour, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country.
Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

bound passenger this morning on No.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

Deadly Locomotive Explosion.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Feb. 6.—The forward engine of a double-header freight train on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad blew up near Colby station yesterday afternoon, killing Engineer Shouse, Fireman Marshall and Brake-man Berry. Engineer Hart of the second engine was fatally injured. The dead men were horribly crushed and mutilated. Both engines were demolished and several cars were dented. It is said that the explosion was caused by the scarcity of water in the forward engine and the freezing of the valves.

If Women Only Knew

What a Heap of Happiness it Would bring to Seymour Homes.

Hard to do housework with an aching back.

Brings your hours of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause—that Backache pains come from sick kidneys—they could save much needless sorrow. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys. Seymour people endorse this:

Mrs. John Owens, of 426 Jack on St. Seymour, Ind., says: "I know of a great many people who recommend Doan's Kidney Pills very highly. I used them several years ago for pain in the back and loins accompanied by severe headaches. My kidneys were out of order, the passages of the secretions being so frequent at night as to greatly break my rest. I procured a box at Milbourn's drug store and took them according to directions and was soon cured. I gave a statement to the effect to the N. Y. Times in August 1901 and confirm what I then said as the cure has proven to be a permanent one." For sale by all dealers. WILLIAM ALDEN SMITH

Elected to Fill Unexpired Term of Senator Alger.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 6.—Congressman William Alden Smith has been elected by the legislature to fill out the unexpired term of Senator R. A. Alger, who died suddenly at his home in Washington ten days ago. Congressman Smith had already been elected as Senator Alger's successor at the expiration of his term, March 4.

Grace in Sitting.

When a woman seats herself she should always take note of the lines of her gown. This should be gracefully hung across her knees, so as to bring out the line of the figure. A woman should seat herself in such a manner that she looks long, so to speak. The skirt can be so arranged over the feet that one takes on a nice height, even though one be built short.

Dress Trimmings.

It does not seem very wise to put much money into perishable dress trimmings or decorations which are likely to go out of fashion before they are worn out. Much more sensible is it to accumulate, little by little, good pieces of lace. Real Valenciennes is not prohibitive and lasts a lifetime. Point and duchess are expensive at first, but a little goes a long way and makes the plainest gown elegant.

Woman at Her Best.

A woman's character and powers are finest about forty. A woman has gained everything at forty and lost nothing; she is at the full vigor of her intellectual powers, she has acquired experience and judgment and is not far enough away from youth to have become unsympathetic even to its wildest vagaries.—Bystander.

'Regular As The Sun'

He Was a Gooseberry.

When Bishop Berry, of the Methodist Episcopal church, was a young preacher he once gave a lecture in a rural community. Wishing to be witty, he announced to his audience that he was a berry and called upon them to state what kind of berry. Nearly every berry known in the vicinity was guessed, and the speaker refused to share the qualities of any of those named. At last an old lady, who was not sympathetic with the seeming levity of the lecturer, arose and exclaimed in a squeaky voice: "I know what kind of berry you are. You are a gooseberry, and a very green one at that. Go on with the lecture." And the lecturer did—quickly.—Christian Work.

BUSINESS COLLEGES ARE FAILURES

in small cities and towns, because:

1. There is no sufficient population to support a GOOD school;

2. Such schools are usually conducted by persons who are NOT qualified, or who make it a practice to travel about and defraud their patrons;

3. There are few if any opportunities for their graduates to secure employment in such localities;

4. The THOROUGH business colleges are located in the larger cities and are conducted by persons who are qualified;

5. The graduates of business colleges in small cities or towns can not secure employment in large cities when thrown in competition with the THOROUGH graduates of high-class schools, as business men have no time to experiment with incompetents. Therefore, be wise. Send for the finest catalogue ever issued by a commercial school, before deciding to throw away your money for a worthless training at some cheap school.
